When Eustace Miles wrote his book – the very first squash-specific one – in 1901, it was described as 'a practical handbook to English squash-rackets and American squash-tennis'. The Library has reproduced a few photos to illustrate how teaching was done before evolving into the 'open skills' system that is used today. Shortly before he won the British Amateur in 1938 (after F D Amr Bey's run of six titles), Kenneth Gandar-Dower wrote this article giving his view of the future of squash in the 1937/8 Squash Rackets Annual. It is on the Library website at <https://www.squashlibrary.info/general-resources>. An interesting insight from a colourful individual. Details and photo of Gandar-Dower with his pet cheetah – yes a cheetah! – are in the story of squash: www.squashlibrary.info/squash-a-celebration.

It is Jonah Barrington's 84th birthday today - while 15 years ago in April 2010 UK's Sunday Times asked Jonah Barrington to look back on his career. Questions included his best and worst moments, playing in his era, best opponents etc. Fascinating, of course! Read the interview here. Jonah Barrington

Masterful masters

When the British Open was staged in London in 1976 it incorporated the inaugural men's World Open championship. Additionally, the ISRF accorded similar status to Veterans and Vintage events (the colloquial titles for the Over 45 and Over 55 age groups). Following this debut age group events became appended to various world team and individual championships until 1991. In that year New Zealand hosted the first World Masters championships, which were staged purely for mature age players, as they have been biennially since in five-year bands from Over 35 through to Over 85.

The other veteran champion

Gregory Gaultier, like Matthew, experienced great success in the later years of his 22-year tour career. His earliest playing period saw him missing out due to being volcanic, distracted and generally stressed on court. Calming down brought rewards. The Frenchman combined fluid movement with great creativity. His uprightness was very noticeable - his military posture perhaps leading to his nickname: 'the General.' Before his later renaissance, Gaultier had missed out on the World championship in 2006 when David Palmer saved five match balls in their final, and Gaultier was runner-up again in 2007, the year he became the one and only Frenchman to win the British Open.

Fast forward to his calmer phase, after he was runner-up in the Worlds twice more (2011/13), he became world champion in 2015, one month short of his 33rd birthday, as well as winning two more British Opens (2014/17). In January 2018, he became the first player to play 700 tour matches and he continued playing even after a serious knee injury that year. He eventually retired at the age of 38 in 2021.

The title spells out Jonah's attitude to the game; to win is everything. Sport at the top professional level is a business.

In what is recognised as the best book ever written on the game of squash, Jonah outlines his advice under nine succinct points covering the need for fire, fitness, fastness, feel, force, fibre, fear, flair and faith.

The republished version of Murder in the Squash Court comes with a fascinating additional chapter written by Jonah covering the emergence of Jahangir Khan.

The short-lived Squash Rackets News in England featured an interesting and informative interview with Gogi Alauddin in March 1971 by journalist John Hopkins. It is at <https://www.squashlibrary.info/general-resources> on the Library website. Pakistan Squash Federation

Gogi Alauddin

S.R.N.: When you were playing the Amateur how many games did you play during the day?
Alauddin: Before the Amateur I played ten games every day. Five games with Yasin, John and others. In the afternoon I

S.R.N.: Do you drink?
Alauddin: No.
S.R.N.: How much do you smoke?
Alauddin: No.
S.R.N.: How heavy are you?
Alauddin: I am 122 lbs weight.
S.R.N.: Between now and then how will you be?
Alauddin: Tomorrow I will be back to Pakistan. I will be 15 days to a month. I will get down to hard training, running, squashing.
S.R.N.: Who will you play?
Alauddin: Probably the Australians in the first round.
S.R.N.: And who do you think will win?
Alauddin: Geoff Hunt, Ken Corner and Ken Corner perhaps.
S.R.N.: You've only won them once.
Alauddin: Yes.
S.R.N.: Do you find it difficult person to play?
Alauddin: Yes. He is a stammer and he is a very good player.
S.R.N.: But Alauddin has won several times.

Indicative of the high disposable income profile of US squash players, 30 years ago in 1994 Rolex used hardball star Mark Talbott, winner of 116 events, in their advertising. US SQUASH

DEDICATED TO ACHIEVEMENT: MARK TALBOTT AND ROLEX

For Squash Champion Mark Talbott, winning appears to come naturally. In truth, his dazzling on court record pays respect to an athletic ability perfected by hard work and a deep commitment to achievement. Inevitably, Mark continues to add to an already legendary list of accomplishments. His timepiece: a Rolex Oyster Perpetual, is a natural choice. Self-winding and pressure-proof to 330 feet, these meticulously handcrafted and rugged Rolex timepieces, like Mark, win accolades for performance.

A promotion company advertising in a general marketing magazine to look for sponsorship for squash championships is unusual. But British company Multisquash did so in 1983 in Marketing Week, having previously been retained by the sponsors of the British Open and National championships.

FOR HIRE: THE CREATIVE TEAM THAT PRODUCED SOME OF THE BEST ADVERTISING FOR AVIS, MOBEN KITCHENS AND WEBSTERS BREWERY.

If you've never considered sports sponsorship, perhaps it's because you've never had the right opportunity. But consider squash. It reaches the right people - ABC1's, many at director level. It's inexpensive. You can sponsor a major championship - including promotion, organisation, venue and prize costs - for between £15,000 and £30,000. You can put your name on the championship, and on the courts, with the strong possibility of TV coverage. Particularly this year, with the growing use of transparent 'see-thru' glass courts. We will not only find the right championship for you, but we also experts at making sure you get the best possible mileage from it. Which we've already done for all the famous names above. As well as helping Thom EM, Thomsons and Sun Life into the limelight. Interested? Well, here are four sponsorship opportunities ready and waiting.

SUPASQUASH CHAMPIONSHIP.
A time-limited format with continuous scoring, designed by us to make thrilling TV watching. Open to 8 players by invitation (and last year, won by the World Squash Champion Jahangir Khan).

THE INTERNATIONAL SQUASH PLAYERS CHAMPIONSHIP
This is the players' own event, since the International Squash Players Association is their controlling body. It can be known as either the 'Your Brand' ISPA Championships or as the 'Your Brand' Players Championships. It is open to the top 64 players as ranked by ISPA, and as such is one of the top three squash championships in the world. Date is February 23rd-2nd March, 1983. Venue to be decided. The 1982 event achieved substantial media coverage which we'll be glad to show you.

WORLD SQUASH MASTERS.
It will be billed 'Your Name' World Squash Masters. It is by invitation to the top players from the world's best squash playing nations. It will have national media coverage in newspapers and radio - TV is being negotiated. Date is November 1st-5th, 1982. Venue is likely to be the Midlands - or to suit your requirements.

GREAT NORTHERN CLASSIC.
A long established tournament, run in the North East. In 1982, it attracted most of the top 32 players in the world. For 1983, it has been upgraded, making it one of the top four competitions in the world. The 1982 event received excellent media cover, including 30 minutes on Tynes Television. And the 'see-thru' courts means up to 1,000 spectators a night - with your own guests in the place of honour.

FOUR POSSIBILITIES.
Being squash, you'll need a turn of speed to pick up the one you like. So we suggest you get in touch with us quickly. But if none of these prove right for your needs, there is one more possibility. We'll tailor make a promotion for you. Soon, you could have some of the world's top squash players running about, to do your advertising.

Geoff Hunt of Australia won the British Open for the sixth time at Wembley.

He beat Qamar Zaman of Pakistan 2-9 9-7 9-0 6-9 9-3 in a memorable final.

After an indifferent start, Hunt found himself game and 0-4 down. But he won the crucial second game in 22 minutes, then zipped through the third to love.

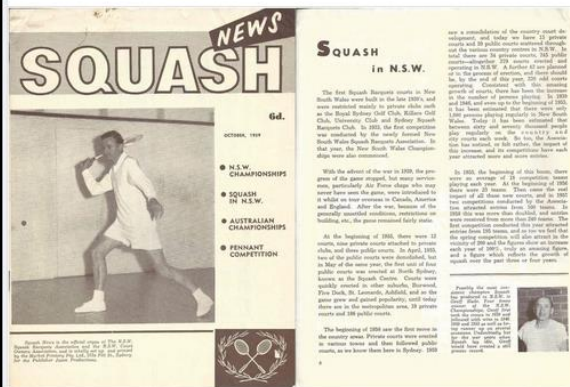

Zaman recovered brilliantly from 1-6 down in the fourth to take the match to a fifth game. But he could not sustain his challenge, and Hunt eventually powered to victory in 82 minutes.

The first squash magazine in USA was Squash News, launched in April 1978 by husband & wife team Hazel & Tom Jones. Coming from an advertising / PR background, when hired by public club owners in New York to secure publicity for squash they started the publication. Initially it was primarily sold to New York public clubs, the Professional Hardball Association and U.S. regional squash associations.

As Hazel Jones commented, 'As a result of growing interest in squash, and the lack of a way to learn about what was happening on a more timely basis, we decided to start the publication, which was a very humble tabloid printed in one color'.

Within a year US Squash had linked in to make it their official magazine, with Squash News a membership benefit. It ran for 21 years, before the baton was taken up by Squash Magazine. Here are the first and last covers. US SQUASH

In the 1970s as glass backwalls increased the broadcast and spectator potential for squash events, media, led by newspapers, was expanding too. So much so that squash journalists in the UK & Ireland formed themselves into the Squash Writers' Club on 7 February 1975 - finals day of the British Open that year.

The SWC was chaired by celebrated Times newspaper writer Rex Bellamy (pic), and aimed to give promoters and sponsors guidance in helping the media and so garner greater coverage, while also indicating the facilities and general support press needed to be able to undertake their journalistic duties.

Media cost-cutting meant the number of specialist journalists dwindled and the club faded away during the 1980s. The World Squash Media Service by Howard Harding (in 1996) funded by WSF, PSA & WISPA ensured general servicing continued.

In June 1987 ISPA (became PSA in 1993) issued its first ISPA NEWS, re-named PROSCENE in 1989.

In the four pages, the large Men's Tour prize money increase was highlighted. From $158,000 in 1983, by April 1987 it had broken the $1m barrier at $1,159,000. Squash - PSA World Tour

ISSUE No.1

Goodbye Greg - and thanks!

GREG POLLOCK three years ago as the chairman of the ISPA, came to a close during the Association's annual meeting at the Radisson Hotel on March 30 when he formally announced that he would not be seeking re-election.

His decision to return to the family business in Australia and to return from professional squash had been known for some time.

Greg's straight talking, no-nonsense style, his appreciation of the business world and his dedication to improving the lot of his fellow squash professionals, earned him the respect of all who dealt with him and his business. Stuart Davenport of New Zealand is under no illusion that Greg will be "a hard act to follow".

It was Davenport who said before to Pollock's work for the Association and who on behalf of the membership presented the retiring chairman with a silver-plated silver in recognition of his outstanding services to the ISPA and to professional squash.

During his period of office Greg has seen the annual budget rise from 18 events in 1984 worth $275,000 to this year when there are likely to be 25 events worth $400,000 more than $1 million.

He has also played a major role in setting up the Men's International Squash Tournament Council, the 10-30 partnership between the ISPA and the IWSF, set up to develop the men's calendar worldwide and handle arrangements for the Grand Prix.

During the meeting he was awarded a further honour when membership approved his appointment as a Life Member of the Association.

In his closing speech, Greg reminded ISPA members that they still always intend their member of having a living.

He stressed "ISPA must be the controlling body for players. The Association must be responsible for player rankings and the scheduling of events. This function must be maintained at all costs."

He said there were people in the world who did not have the player's interests at heart and who would seek to undermine the strength and credibility of the Association. "Be on the look out for these people, he warned "and be prepared to stick together."

ISPA's new chairman is 54-year-old Stuart Davenport, who moves into one of the most important and influential positions within the sport after a year as president.

Jansher closes in after rankings shake-up

JANSHER KHAN, 17-year-old brother of former world No.1 Muhammad Khan and tipped as a future world champion, has jumped ten places to No.4 spot in the latest official world rankings issued by the International Squash Players Association.

Jansher's leap to the top echelon of the world's leading players, is one of a number of dramatic changes in view of the biggest ranking shake-up in recent years.

The young Pakistan, number one in the British Open, was only No.10 on the ranking list six months ago. But then he reached the final of the Squash Open in February and won the Pakistan Open de Paris event.

His steps have almost been matched by Chris Dettmar of Australia, who has climbed from No.14 to No.11 (1,000 to 1,100) in February 1987 and now to his new spot of No.8.

Another Australian, Rodney Martin, who came within three points of beating No.1 Jansher Khan in the British Open, continues his rise and makes an impressive jump from No.18 to No.6.

Four players lose their top ten position - Ross Thomas and Katrina South of Australia, and Graham Bruns and Hady Jones of England. And Big England's tip over the last seven down ten steps there as Tim Kennedy and Oweil Williams have also slipped.

Only the improvement shown by James Hickins, Steve Bennett and Centry Madhogs helps offset the loss to English side.

Lower down the order, spectacular progress has been made by Adrian Davies of Wales (25 to 40), Satoru Ishii of Canada (35 to 40), Rodney Jones of Australia (35 to 40) and James Mansfield of England (105 to 120).

The first issue of Squash Magazine (USA) was dated October 1997. The cover was of Marty Clark who had won the US Championships Open division the previous spring. The publisher was Jay Prince from Washington State, who previously handled Junior Tennis Magazine.

Squash News, run by Tom and Hazel Jones, was already operating, and was the official US Squash Association publication. Within two years of the Squash Magazine launch official status was switched to it.

Jay Prince published independently, printing ten editions a year until 2013, when it moved 'in-house' to US Squash. US SQUASH Squash Magazine

A milestone in squash broadcast was reached in January 2010 when SquashTV, a live and video-on-demand platform was launched at the Tournament of Champions in New York.

Before then, the major Men's & Women's events were filmed by local broadcasters usually only from the semi-finals stage, sometimes for live national broadcasts. They then supplied tapes of the match recordings for production companies to produce highlights programmes on behalf of PSA (and WISPA then).

By ensuring all broadcasting rights were taken back in-house, PSA, via SquashTV took charge of filming and producing the programming – so eliminating the various standards of host broadcasters and ensuring continuity and consistent quality. The semi-finals and finals were available for broadcasters to take via satellite, whilst the earlier rounds were only available via streaming on the SquashTV website, which was a huge leap in matches available for viewing.

Howard Harding took on the role of World Squash Media Director for WSF, PSA & WISPA (who merged with PSA in 2015) in 1996, when the three bodies got together to make a joint appointment.

The 1996 announcement indicated that 'in the increasingly competitive media environment for sport we recognise the need to both coordinate and upgrade our media relations activities'. While the role for PSA / WISPA ceased a few years ago, over the period Harding issued over 8,000 media releases, liaising & communicating as well as being the focal point for media contact and information for the sport.

In 2003 he was awarded a WSF Outstanding Service Award, presented by 10 times British Open Champion Jahangir Khan (then WSF President), with the comment 'Howard's absolute dedication to his role has been outstanding. The hours he works and the commitment he shows are an example to us all'.

He concludes with WSF in June, as was announced today, after 24 years in the role. World Squash FederationSquash - PSA World Tour

Technology has not only relentlessly innovated, but also compacted. 35 years ago a camera in a box placed in front of the tin was a great 1985 idea from Steve Line, the doyen of squash photography, as reported in Squash Player Magazine. Now, he could probably mount a camera on a pinhead! Squash Player Magazine

Photographic innovation

Squash Player photographer Steve Line has innovated a new squash photographic system. A wooden and perspex box protects the camera which sits at the front of the court below the tin.

An infra-red remote release works like a T.V. channel change on the pre-focused, motorwind camera. This allows Steve to take front court action shots without a camera pit.

"I was fed up with the restriction of photographing through a normal glass back," said Steve.

The very first edition of Squash Player Magazine in November 1971 covered the elevation of Men's British Open winner prize money to GBP500 courtesy of Benson & Hedges sponsorship. Yes, cigarette brands sponsored athletic sports then! There was shock reported when Geoff Hunt announced he was turning pro, a profile of 'revolutionary' Jonah Barrington, and the defeat of a move to abolish amateur status (which was eventually abandoned in 1980).

Twenty five years ago the internet was taking baby steps, and squash was an early embracer of the opportunities, many not fully imagined, that it would represent. By 1996, the 'Internet Squash Federation' the home page for squash, had been voted as 'one of the best organised of all sorts on the World wide Web'. Squash's introduction, what was then termed an interlinked information and news site for all squash data, was an initiative by Paul Baggott, a squash enthusiast from Newcastle University in England.

Then, the restrictive need was to have a computer, modem and internet provider have been overtaken by mobile phones, tablets, virtual assistants and so on, and we can hardly think about a time before the internet! (..... and what was having a web page 'clothed' all about?)
