As Minister responsible for amateur sport in British Columbia, it is a pleasure to welcome you to the 1992 Silver Unicorn Women's World Squash Championships.

This tournament, which includes individual competition and team events, brings together more than 200 of the world's top women squash players.

The more than 18 countries represented at the event can be proud of their athletes. The women competing in this tournament have shown that they are true champions — not only through the development of superior game skills but also as role models for women in sport around the world.

On behalf of the Government of British Columbia, I congratulate The Arbutus Club for hosting the world championships in Vancouver.

To all the players, I offer my best wishes for good luck and spirited competition. I hope that all people involved in this tournament will take home fond memories of British Columbia's hospitality and of friendships developed during this special event.

*A Message from the President of the International Squash
Rackets Federation —
Champions of the World*

Surely the greatest prize in the sporting world is the title "World Champion". With it goes not only the admiration of every other player of the sport in the world, but also recognition of the dedication, the skill, the mental and physical strengths, which are all hallmarks of the true athlete.

This is especially true of World Team Championships, where the individual must operate on two levels, the personal and the corporate, to generate the pure concept of "Team Spirit".

Even though only one team and one individual can gain the World Champion title in Vancouver, all other players can take pride in knowing that they have competed in a World Championship and become identified as the best of their generation. What is most important is to compete fairly and to play to the best of one's ability. If this is done, then victory or defeat becomes of secondary importance.

The ISRF, as the world governing body for Squash, not only represents 15 million players of all standards but is also responsible for ensuring that the title of "World Champion" is not bestowed lightly. So we are particularly pleased to be able to stage the Silver Unicorn Women's World Squash Championships in Vancouver, in a member nation which is demonstrating success in both the playing and the administration of Squash.

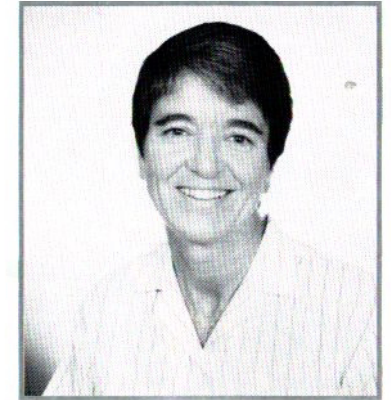

We are grateful to all those who have made this great occasion possible. Squash Canada, Squash British Columbia, Silver Unicorn Inc., the Governments of Canada, and British Columbia, Delta Pacific Resort Hotel, Dunlop, Slazenger and all the personnel at The Arbutus Club. We also thank most sincerely the hosts of dedicated volunteer workers whose input is essential for the smooth running of the World Championships.

To all in Vancouver; players, spectators, referees, administrators and the world's press, I bid a warm welcome in the certain knowledge that you will see our great sport at its finest.

President
International Squash Rackets Federation*

A Message from the President of Squash Canada

On behalf of Squash Canada, it gives me great pleasure to welcome all participants, guests and spectators to the 1992 Silver Unicorn Women's World Squash Championships. We are proud to be host to this prestigious event. It is eleven years since Canada last hosted these Championships and the first time we have had a World Championships in British Columbia.

We are very fortunate to have Silver Unicorn Inc. as our main sponsor. CEO, Nadir Zulqernain, is sponsoring the Women's World Championships because of his love of the game, and also the Canadian Women's team through Stretch Unlimited Inc. Without Nadir Zulqernain's generous support, we could not have hosted these Championships. On behalf of us all, a sincere thank you.

Organizing World Championships of this calibre is dependent upon considerable sponsorship support. We are indeed indebted to Delta Hotels who have provided the tournament with an excellent hotel package. Slazenger, Canadian Airlines, Xerox, Pepsi, Thrifty Car Rentals, the Federal Government Fitness and Amateur Sport and B.C. Ministry of Municipal Affairs, Recreation and Housing have provided generous sponsorship for which we are very appreciative. Dunlop, a major ISRF sponsor, is providing all the balls. Several other sponsors, too numerous to mention, are also supporting the championships—thank you. Many months of preparation have gone into organizing these Championships. We are indebted to so many volunteers and to John Furlong and Morley Jameson who have so ably co-chaired the Organizing Committee.

We are delighted to have Rod Symington as Referee-in-Chief. His experience at a world level will ensure success of the refereeing program. We appreciate the support from referees who work very long days and who have volunteered their time for these Championships. Thank you.

We are going to see fantastic squash in the next two weeks. Have a wonderful tournament! Good Luck!

Un Message du Président de Squash Canada

J'ai le plaisir d'accueillir, de la part de Squash Canada, tous les participants, invités et spectateurs aux Championnats du Monde de Squash Féminin, Silver Unicorn 1992. Nous sommes fiers d'être les hôtes de cet événement prestigieux. Cela fait onze ans que le Canada a accueilli ces Championnats et c'est la première fois que des Championnats du Monde se déroulent en Colombie Britannique.

Nous avons la chance d'avoir comme principal parrain la Silver Unicorn Inc. A cause de son amour pour le jeu, le CEO Nadir Zulqernain, parraine les Championnats du Monde Féminin ainsi que l'équipe Nationale Canadienne grâce à sa compagnie Stretch Unlimited Inc. Sans le soutien généreux de Nadir Zulqernain, nous ne pourrions pas être les hôtes de ces Championnats. De notre part à tous, un grand merci à Nadir.

L'organisation de Championnats Mondiaux de ce calibre dépend considérablement du soutien des parrains. Nous devons beaucoup aux Hôtels Delta qui ont offert des séjours à bon prix pour le Tournoi. Slazenger, Canadian Airlines, Xerox, Pepsi, l'agence de location de voitures Thrifty, l'Administration Fédérale de Fitness et du Sport Amateur ainsi que le Ministère des Affaires Municipales de la Récreation et de l'Habitat C.B., ont tous offert un patronage généreux pour lequel nous sommes très reconnaissants. Dunlop, un parrain majeur de l'ISRF, fournit toutes les balles. Plusieurs autres parrains, trop nombreux à mentionner, soutiennent aussi les Championnats—grand merci.

Beaucoup de mois de préparation ont été consacrés à l'organisation de ces Championnats. Nous devons beaucoup à de nombreux volontaires et à John Furlong et Morley Jameson qui ont partagé la Présidence du Comité Organisateur de façon si efficace.

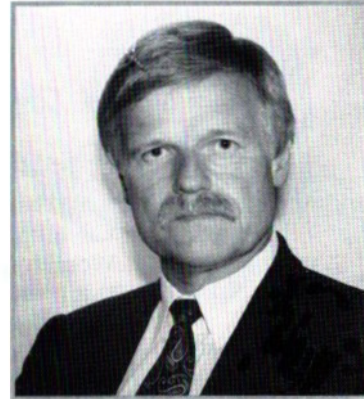

Nous sommes enchantés d'avoir Rod Symington comme Chef Arbitre. Son expérience au niveau mondial assurera la réussite de l'arbitrage. Nous apprécions le support des arbitres qui travaillent de longues heures et qui ont donné leur temps libre. Merci.

Nous allons assister à de fantastiques matchs de Squash dans les deux prochaines semaines. Bon Tournoi et bonne chance!

Sincèrement,

Michael P. Tooley

De tels événements ne peuvent se produire sans le support généreux de nos parrains. Un grand merci à Nadir Zulqernain, Président de Silver Unicorn Inc., aux Gouvernements du Canada et de Colombie Britannique et à tous les autres parrains exceptionnels.

Enfin, bonne chance à toutes les joueuses. Que votre séjour soit non seulement agréable, mais fructueux.

A Welcome- Message from the Championship Chairperson

Welcome to The Arbutus Club

The Arbutus Club is one of Canada's foremost private clubs for sport, recreation, or social interaction, for the entire family. The Club is a fun and friendly place for all ages, and the facilities are first-class. There are courts for Racquetball, Squash and Badminton, and some of the very finest indoor and outdoor Tennis courts anywhere. The Aquatics facilities include an indoor swimming pool and a diving tank. The Club's ice facilities feature a skating/hockey rink and an eight sheet curling rink. There is a fully equipped Weight Room with the latest in fitness equipment.

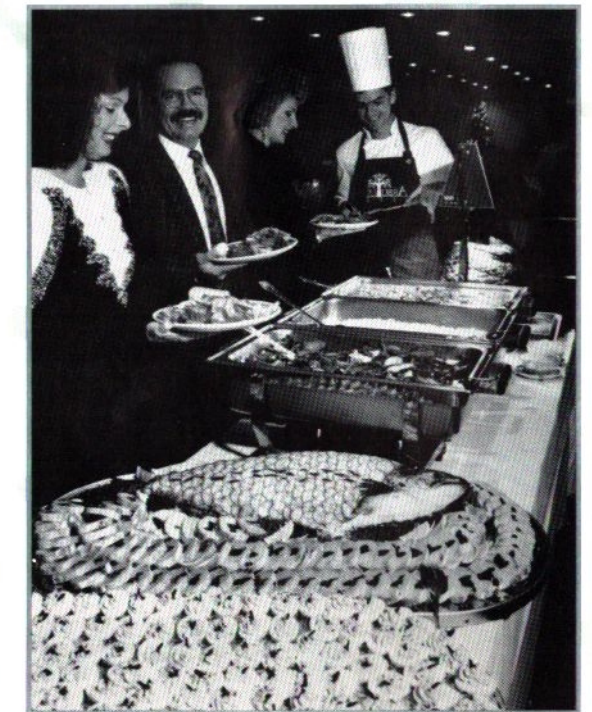

Music Studios, Dance Studios, Gymnasium, Spa facilities and much, much more... Yes, The Arbutus Club really has it all!

The Arbutus Club Dining facilities are second to none with an elegant Dining Room, informal cafe, outdoor Bistro in the summer and a lovely English style Pub. There are meeting and banquet facilities with room for 250 people or more at any one function. What makes these facilities even more special for the members of the Arbutus Club are the innovative programs, thoughtful services, enthusiastic and knowledgeable staff, and the fun activities and events that are designed specifically to meet the needs and wishes of all of our Arbutus Club families. Club staff are committed to maintaining excellence in all aspects of the Club's operation. Training and retraining are key to keeping Programs, activities and services on the leading edge.

Energy, enthusiasm and commitment to organizational excellence have always been characteristic of our Arbutus Club members. The original founders who got together and planned the first major, family private club in Vancouver, were no different. Before there was even a site selected, and certainly before there was any evidence of physical facilities, those eager organizers raised $200,000. When the Arbutus Club opened in 1965, the facilities included an ice rink, swimming pool, changerooms, and snack bar. A few months later the first tennis courts were completed. Initially the curlers, skaters and hockey players all shared the ice rink. However, in 1966 Phase II of The Arbutus Club was completed with an addition of an 8 sheet curling rink. Gradually over the years the Arbutus Club has phased in additional facilities including a Gymnasium, Health Spa, Racquetball courts, Squash courts, and indoor tennis courts. These were completed as financial reserves permitted. The Club is physically strong today and remains highly attractive to prospective new members. Without question, The Arbutus Club is the foremost family oriented private club in British Columbia, and is amongst the finest in Canada.

Our members are the Club. All the major decisions and directions are in essence determined by the membership, and those who wish to become more involved are welcome to do so through The Arbutus Club's active committee system. Each activity within The Arbutus Club is directed by a committee of interested and

World Team Championships

It is tradition at every world championships, Men's or Women's, Junior or Senior that there be a world Team Championships involving the National teams of the participating countries. The individual championships are run along very traditional lines and often involve matches between players from the same countries. Major individual upsets are the exception rather than the rule.

In the Team Championships, however, each country selects its best three players, plus a substitute and Team Manager, and then prepares vigorously in an effort to become the best Squash Team in the world. The Team Championship is a wildly enthusiastic affair, in which every team gets an opportunity to display their national spirit. Teams are placed in pools according to their strength, and predetermined seeding. The results of the preceding World Championships are normally used to determine tournament seedings. For the 1992 Silver Unicorn Women's World Team Squash Championships, the teams have been placed in two pools of four, and two pools of five as follows.

Pools A and B involve the highest ranked countries from the previous championships held in Sydney, Australia, but all teams have the opportunity to reach the championship round. In recent years, the top countries have included England, Australia, New Zealand, Ireland, Germany and Finland. With the return, however, of former world power South Africa to the 1992 Silver Unicorn Women's World Championships, and the recent strength of the Canadian Team, led by Heather Wallace, upsets for 1992 may indeed be the rule, not the exception. Once the pool matches are played, teams advance into a predetermined play-off system leading to semi-finals and finals. The current world Team Champions are England. Watch out for some hectic Squash, a rousing atmosphere, major upsets and graphic demonstrations of team spirit!

involved members. This is one of the primary ways in which the Club can stay so closely in touch with the needs and desires of all its member families. Coordinating all of the committees, and directing the entire operation of the Club, is an elected Board of Directors who are all members of The Arbutus Club. The Board has always consisted of keenly interested members who possess a wide range of skills, expertise and talents.

The Arbutus Club has always prided itself at having excellent facilities with the latest equipment and technology. As the needs arise and the finances are available, the membership chooses the direction in which the Club will develop, grow, improve or even change. A Master Plan was developed in 1989/1990 taking into consideration the suggestions and concerns of the membership, committees and staff. This is a long-term plan which is designed to utilize the existing facilities effectively and efficiently, expand the Club to the extent allowed by the municipal by-laws, and ultimately to provide the facilities and services our members desire now and in the future. Since the development of our Master Plan, the Club has opened a new indoor/outdoor tennis facility, a 13,000 square foot New Wing, a new Weight Room, and is in the process of developing the finest Adult Changerooms of any Club in Vancouver. The growth and excellence of the past and present is now assured for the future of The Arbutus Club.

Canada Emerging As A World Power

By Sue Dodge

Canadian National Champion — Heather Wallace

The dynamic sport of squash saw an unprecedented rise in popularity during the last decade. Canadians of all ages and in all regions of the country embraced the game. Although the squash boom appears to be over, the sport is enjoying steady growth.

Today, over 400,000 Canadians play squash at hundreds of private and public clubs, and educational institutions across the nation. The motivation to play squash varies from the desire for competition, fitness, or regular recreation to career aspirations. Certainly, squash is a lifetime sport.

Squash Canada

Squash Canada celebrated its 75th anniversary in 1989. From the first squash court, which was constructed in Quebec City in the 1800's, the Canadian Squash Racquets Association, formed in 1914, has grown to the present 410 clubs. In 1991, the association officially changed its name to Squash Canada.

Squash Canada is a federation of provincial and territorial squash associations governed by a council and represented by an Executive Committee. The Association employs a full-time Executive Director and Technical Director, and a small support staff who maintain the head office in Ottawa at the Canadian Sport and Recreation Centre.

Squash Canada organizes and coordinates a national schedule of competitions for men and women of all ages. It establishes national rankings and selects and trains Canadian Squash teams to represent our country at international events.

A major Squash Canada responsibility is that of player development. A national coaching certification program has been established to increase the quality of instruction for aspiring young athletes. The inclusion of squash in the Canada Winter Games, beginning in February 1991, resulted in significant growth in junior development programming in all provinces and territories. Preparations have already begun for the 1995 Canada Winter Games which will be staged in Grand Prairie, Alberta.

Internationally, Canada has its Best-Ever Year

Heather Wallace started what was to be a banner year for Canadian Squash, when she won the Calgary International last October, beating Sarah Fitzgerald (8), Robyn Lambourne (2), Lucy Soutter (14) and Michelle Martin (6). A month later she won the Finnish Open with a win over Suzanne Horner (11) in the Final. By April, Heather was among the top ten players in the World and ranked 7th.

Next, in the first round of the World Championships in Helsinki, the Canadian Men's Team upset New Zealand on the strength of performances by Gary Waite of Sarnia, and Jamie Crombie of Calgary. Waite defeated Ross Norman, ranked 9th in the World, 2-9, 9-5, 9-3, 9-5, 9-5, 9-3, 9-7. This win proved that the Canadian Men can play squash with the best in the world. The team lost tough matches to Egypt and the Netherlands before beating Scotland to place 9th overall.

By the end of the season, Gary Waite improved his ISPA ranking to 18th (from 24th in November) with several good wins over players ranked above him such as Norman (9) and including Brett Martin (6) of Australia, Del Harris (12) of England and Simon Parks (14) of England. Crombie jumped from 58th to 40th and Jonathon Power climbed from 98th to 79th.

Finally, the Junior Men's team played to a brilliant third place finish at the Junior World Championships in Hong Kong last month. The team of Jonathon Power (Toronto), Graham Ryding (Toronto), Kelly Patrick (Calgary) and Rob Wilson (Calgary) finished second in their pool with wins over Pakistan, Germany, Sweden, Malaysia, and a loss to Australia. The Canadians gave Australia a scare with Ryding playing out of his mind to defeat the Australian number 1, Gavin Caldwell (5), while Power took a much needed rest, and Patrick narrowly lost to Joseph Knepp (4) in five games. This left Canada facing England, the top-ranked team, in the semi-finals. Ryding, won the first, and then lost a close match to Justin Rennie, 5-9, 3-9, 9-5, 9-0, 9-4. Then Power defeated Nicholas Cass 9-6, 1-9, 9-3, 4-9, 9-0. Finally, Kelly Patrick followed his game plan to the letter for two games against Chris Clare, before he lost his concentration in the third game and subsequently lost the match 6-9, 5-9, 9-4, 9-1. The next day, the boys defeated Egypt 3-0 to win the bronze medal. The team was disappointed to have come so close to beating England, however, they proved that they could play squash with the very best juniors in the World and that the future of Canadian Squash is very bright.

Jonathon Power placed second in the World Junior Individual Championships defeating Justin Rennie (England) in the quarter-finals 7-9, 9-4, 9-5, 9-3, before losing in the final to John Raumolin (Finland) 5-9, 9-3, 9-7, 9-2. Jonathon lived up to his number 2 seeding and the promise of great things to come.

Squash Canada is working on a plan for its National Team program which will capitalize on the strength of our teams and the hard work of individual players like Wallace, Waite and Power.

Squash in Canada may be on the threshold of a new era based on the popularity of the sport with the Canadian public, and the potential of our elite players to be successful on the World arena.

This is about winning.

"Winning isn't everything. It's the only thing".

"It isn't whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game".

"If you don't win, you lose" ... and on and on and on.

Ask a dozen people today what it means to win or what it takes to be a winner, and chances are you'll come up with a dozen or more answers.

At Xerox, we have our own ideas about winning and winners.

To begin with, we believe winning is a team effort. Maybe that's because we've never met a winner who in some way hasn't been trained, coached, encouraged or just plain influenced by another human being.

We also believe that winning is fundamentally a by-product of character.

To win at anything of value requires the overcoming of obstacles. Often, the greatest of these obstacles is a wavering faith in our own potential. To win, in our opinion, is to go the distance. It is the ability to endure and persevere.

Winning, as far as we're concerned, is the ability to stretch oneself and be better for the effort.

In the final analysis, winning is anything but easy.

It is, however, the ultimate recognition of our struggle.

Refereeing With The Three Judge System: A New Look at an Old Method

By Rod Symington, Championship Referee

For decades the most contentious aspect of the game of squash has been the officiating. It is almost inevitable that when decisions (especially ones that involve interpretation) are made by one individual (the referee), the person affected (the player), will tend to disagree and might even become upset from time to time. As professional squash becomes more and more competitive and prize money increases, the problem of officiating (and the resulting disagreements) is getting more and more acute.

Perhaps the major problem in international squash tournaments nowadays is the conflict that inevitably takes place between the referee and either one or both players (although it must be said that in this regard the women players are much better behaved than the men!). The referee does his or her best to make fair decisions, yet it is in the nature of the game that one or both players will frequently disagree with those decisions. The result is often a face-to-face, one-on-one clash that leads to further tension between players and officials and reflects badly on the sport.

These conflicts could in large measure be eliminated by the adoption of a system of officiating which involves three officials. Such a system would immediately remove the primary source of conflicts namely one person's disagreement with another's judgement. A decision made by three people is bound to be viewed as more convincing than a decision made by one person. While it is easy to believe that one person might have made an error (and that does happen from time to time in stressful circumstances!), it is very difficult to believe that three people will make the same error at the same moment—and that they will keep on doing so throughout a match! When two or more people see a situation the same way, that inevitably gives their decision more weight and credibility.

Thus we believe that the Three Official System, which we will be using throughout the two weeks of the Women's World Championships, greatly reduces the number of officiating errors, improves decision-making overall, and significantly helps players accept decisions that do not go in their favour. There is a noticeable reduction in the stress suffered by referees (three's company), the quality of decision-making in a match is considerably enhanced, disagreements are virtually impossible (how do you argue with three people at once?), and both players and officials feel a lot better when the match is finally over.

In this promotion of the Three Judge System Canada has led the way. At the Canadian Open last October, this system was used for the first time ever in an I.S.P.A. event. After some initial scepticism on the part of the players, the system quickly found universal approval, and the experience even led Ross Norman (not a particularly good fan of referees) to write that this was the best officiated tournament he had ever attended, that the quality of decision-making was very high, that this was the first tournament at which he had seen no referee get flustered and there were no arguments between players and officials — in sum this system should have been introduced years ago!

Well, of course, it was: it is merely a refinement of the system that has been used in the hard-ball game for a very long time; but international soft-ball squash is a highly conservative sport, and changes are slow to be adopted. The officials working at these championships have come from all over the world, and many of them will be seeing and using the Three Judge System for the first time. During the second week of the Championships we hope to be able to demonstrate its superiority to the representatives of the I.S.R.F. member nations who are here for their Annual General Meeting. It is our hope that everyone who attends these Championships, players, officials, and spectators will come to realise that the Three Judge System has some major advantages. All that, however, is secondary to our ultimate aim which is to ensure that each rally, each game, each match has the fairest possible outcome and that the true winner emerges. If we can achieve that, then the system will have proved its worth.
